

Chemtex Acquires Owens Water Treatment Division

International Chemtex Corporation (Chemtex), announces its acquisition of the Owens Water Treatment Division from Owens Companies, a Bloomington, Minnesota based provider of mechanical services, construction and engineering. The transaction became effective June 1, 2008.

Prior to the transaction, Owens Water Treatment Division served as the Minneapolis-St. Paul distributor for Chemtex products and services, serving Minnesota, the Dakotas, western Wisconsin and northern Iowa.

All former Owens Water Treatment Division personnel are being retained. “Our customers will see no change in representation or the level of service,” commented Gary Glenna, Chemtex president. “In fact, the integration of the sales and service function with manufacturing and technical support will enable us to provide even more seamless service to our customers.”
